ecosystem

A NOTE FROM THE IIC DIRECTOR GENERAL

We are delighted to hear of your interest in membership of the International Institute of Communications (IIC).

There are plenty of opportunities included with membership of the IIC, of which you will find listed below. Our programme enables Knowledge Sharing, Best Practice and Learning of which I believe you will greatly benefit from.

Our members believe that the impact of technological innovation on society should be evaluated and discussed openly and that policy and regulation should both maximise the public interest and promote innovation and investment.

As mentioned to me recently, by a number of our members, it is very difficult to find organisations that are truly unbiased. I am delighted to say we are that unbiased organisation. We are a proud global organisation with a unique positioning in that we are trusted, independent and neutral.

I look forward to hopefully meeting you at upcoming IIC events and welcoming you to the IIC.

The International Institute of Communications (IIC) is the policy platform for the digital ecosystem.

The IIC exists to inform and thereby shape the global policy agenda for the ICT and digital ecosystem.

IIC members believe that the impact of technological innovation on society should be evaluated and discussed openly and that policy and regulation should both maximise the public interest and promote innovation and investment.

Exchanging good practice and ideas

The IIC's unique positioning is that it is global, trusted, independent and neutral organization, with strong convening powers, deep policy expertise and high level of discussions.

The 'Chatham House rule' allows a unique trusted environment to encourage open dialogue.

The IIC is committed to helping Regulators, Competition Authorities and Policymakers, find the best regulatory and policy frameworks for the widest societal benefit. The IIC is the only independent international forum that brings together statutory national regulators, competition authorities, global commercial operators and end-user representatives in a collegiate, neutral environment to debate policy issues.

It was, in fact, a pleasure to attend and share our views on how to create a better and more inclusive communications environment. Glad to hear we could move the ball forward a bit! Mauricio Ramos , CEO, Millicom.

The world needs more dialogue. And that's why Telenor actually comes to these types of platforms, we love to be part of forums where we can come together and particularly in times of great uncertainty it is really important that we take down our shoulders and try to solve problems together. Alone we will never be able to solve these problems. Håkon Bruaset Kjøl, Senior Vice President, Partner and External Relations Asia, Telenor Group.

The IRF provides an opportunity where regulators from all over the world can share their insights and experience on issues of common concern in a candid manner. I thoroughly enjoyed all sessions in this year's IRF. Agnes Wong, Director-General of Communications, OFCA, Hong Kong
